Young Adults Rehabilitation experiences and Needs following Brain Injury/ Stroke - Developing Practice

Are you a young adult who has experienced a brain injury?

OR

Are you a carer for a young adult with a brain injury?

The study is exploring the neurological rehabilitation support for young adults following a brain injury in the UK. The study aims to develop a nurse-led intervention that can help the psychosocial support of young individuals.

We are looking for individuals who:

- ☺ Have experienced or cared for a person with a brain injury (includes traumatic brain injury, stroke, cancer, CO_2 poisoning, etc.) in the last 10 years
- ☺ Aged 18-45 at the time of the brain injury
- ☺ Are willing to consent to participate in an online interview
- ☺ Are able to understand and communicate their experiences

☺ How to take part?
